Blue Angels Announce Practice Schedule Change for Week of April 2-5

PENSACOLA, Fla. – Navy Flight Demonstration Squadron, the Blue Angels, will resume practice demonstrations following the Easter weekend, Tuesday through Friday, April 2-5th; with take-offs from Naval Air Station (NAS) Pensacola scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Bleacher seating is provided behind the National Naval Aviation Museum.

Following Wednesday's practice, the team will visit the museum to answer questions and sign autographs.

Friday's practice will launch from NAS Pensacola but the practice demonstration will not be viewable from the base or the National Museum of Naval Aviation.

The Blue Angels' practice schedule for the remainder of April is still to be determined; updates will be released as soon as they become available.
